TCEDC Week in Taos

November 6, 2014 - Mayor Dan Barrone and the Town Council have proclaimed November 10 - 16, 2014 as Taos County Economic Development Corporation (TCEDC) Week in Taos, New Mexico.

TCEDC has been serving the greater Taos County community for over twenty-seven years by advocating for food, land, water and cultures of the citizens of Northern New Mexico. The Taos Food Center is the core of several programs offered by TCEDC in which many food businesses are provided free training in food safety, business development, and USDA regulations. TCEDC has also been instrumental in the success of many small businesses by providing education, facilities, and resources to support their ventures.

Mayor Barrone stated, "TCEDC has been an essential resource in Taos County for many years. The Council and I thank TCEDC for their vision in promoting and supporting economic development."
